UNIDENTIFIED U-BOAT SIGHTED NEAR SCENE OF THE RAID SUNDAY

Was Seen Yesterday While Sea Lane Was Dotted With Allied Munition-Laden Ships

200 MILES FROM NEW YORK

Fleet of British Cruisers and Destroyers Reported Off the New England Coast

U. S. WARSHIPS ON PATROL

Destroyers Searching Reported Secret Submarine Bases

Boston, Mass., Oct. 13.—An unidentified submarine off the New England coast was reported by the steamship Bovic today at a time when the steamship lane to Europe was dotted with munition-laden ships just released from the embargo placed on their movements after the German submarine raid off Nantucket last Sunday.

The Bovic, bound from Manchester, England, for New York, did not report the submarine's nationality but gave its position when sighted at 8 A. M. today at about 200 miles due east of New York, not far from the scene of the U-boat activities of last Sunday. The Bovic is due in New York late tonight or some time tomorrow.

British Fleet Off Coast.

The reports of the strange submarine were co-incident with announcements that a fleet of British cruisers and destroyers was off the coast and that virtually the entire available destroyer flotilla of the Atlantic fleet of the United States Navy was on neutrality duty.

That the American destroyers were conducting an active investigation of stories of secret submarine bases on this coast was indicated in a dispatch from Bar Harbor, Me., which said the destroyer Pauling, sent out from the Newport naval base yesterday, made an exhaustive search of the coast between Bar Harbor and Rockland today. There was not a cove or rocky inlet that escaped the sharp scrutiny of the destroyer's crew. At dusk the Paulding put back to Rockland and it is understood that she had discovered nothing suspicious during the day. Those of her men who were given shore leave were ordered to report ready for sailing at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Other destroyers known to be off the coast and believed to be engaged in much the same work as the Paulding are the McDougall, Fanning and Warrington. The McDougal, during the evening, anchored at Eastport, in proximity to the Canadian border.

Good Advantages for Base.

The presence of these destroyers in eastern Maine has recalled rumors that persisted for months that Teutonic sympathizers had a hidden wireless station somewhere in the vicinity of Bar Harbor and that there was a suspicion also that they were establishing a secret submarine base on the Maine coast.

Few places on the Atlantic shore line of the United States, shipping men say, offer better advantages for submarines having designs on allied supply ships. Submersibles operating from one of the innumerable isolated coves on the Maine coast, it is pointed out, could threaten both the steamship lane to Europe and the transport ships passing out from the ports of the neighboring Canadian provinces.

Tug Starts Speculation.

The departure of a tug from New London, where there have been reports of preparations made for receiving a German submarine freighter, gave rise to much speculation as to whether the undersea boat sighter by the Bovic was a merchant submarine instead of another raider. The tug, however, put in at Vineyard Haven, and it was said there that she was going out to the Dutch steamer Bloomersdijk, which was torpedoed Sunday, to see what the chances were for salvage work. The tug, with a diver aboard, was held in port tonight by a gale.

STORM WARNINGS UP

Are Ordered Displayed From Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Maine.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Weather Bureau tonight ordered storm warnings displayed on the Atlantic coast from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Me. An order earlier in the day had ordered storm signals displayed from Hatteras to Reedy Island, near Philadelphia.

BRITISH STEAMERS SAIL

Shipping of the Allies Becomes Normal at Newport News, Va.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 13.—Allied shipping here today became normal and several British steamers left with cargoes for the allied nations of Europe. Shipments of horses and grain will be resumed tomorrow after being delayed since Sunday.

HUNTING REPORTED SUBMARINE BASES

Destroyers of the Atlantic Fleet Also on the Search for Illegal Radio Stations

REPORT OF ADMIRAL MAYO

Secretary Daniels Announces That No Orders Have Been Issued by the Navy Department to Make the Search.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Destroyers from the Atlantic fleet are making a search of the Atlantic coast from Newport north to the Canadian line to investigate reports of hidden submarine bases or wireless stations. Admiral Mayo, commander of the fleet, reported to the Navy Department today that he had ordered the search but did not disclose either the source of the report on which he acted or the places where illegal radio plants or bases were said to have been discovered.

Secretary Daniels made it plain tonight that the admiral had acted on his own initiative in sending out the scouting craft on this mission, although when the European war began general orders were issued to the fleet commanders to take all necessary steps to safeguard American neutrality.

So far as the department knows there is no present intention on Admiral Mayo's part to extend his search south of Newport. Navy officials believe he had no very definite information on which to act. It has been the policy of the navy to investigate reports of secret radio stations along the coast without waiting to determine their creditability. Navy officials have been impressed with the necessity for running down such rumors quickly to prevent violation of neutrality.

Although Admiral Mayo's report of his action reached the department early tody, he had found it unnecessary up to late tonight to add to the information contained in his original message. Officers here tonight thought this precluded any likelihood that he had any reliable advices of a violation of neutrality.

MEXICANS MORE FRIENDLY TO AMERICAN EXPEDITION.

Chihuahua City Paper Tells of the Cordial Relations.

El Paso, Tex. Oct. 13.—The cordial relations between the American Punitive Expedition and the neighboring Carranza authorities is the subject of an article in El Democrataul, a Carranza organ published in Chihuahua City, which is regarded here as significant of a changed policy toward the United States looking to a more extended cooperation against Villa.

It was this paper that brought the first news to El Paso of the agitation early last June for the retirement of the punitive force. Crimes were charged in its columns against the Americans, and its editorials were devoted to attacks on American motives and methods.

STREET CARS BLOCKED

Demonstration Follows Mass Meeting in Interest of Strikers.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 13.—A down town demonstration that followed a mass meeting at the city auditorium in the interest of striking motormen and conductors, resulted in partial blockading of street cars here tonight and in four arrests for various disorders. The demonstration lasted nearly two hours.

The strike began two weeks ago, and for the past several days the company has claimed to be running normal schedules day and night.

The mass meeting was taken up with speeches presenting the case of the strikers who are seeking recognition of a newly formed union.

RADICAL CHANGES PROMISED IN THE TREATMENT OF MAILS

Allies Regard Them Sufficient to Meet Desires of United States.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Radical changes in the treatment of mails on neutral ships are promised in the reply of the British and French governments to the American protests against interference with mails. The changes, while short of an abandonment of the contention of the right to search for information of value to an enemy, are regarded by the Allies as sufficient to meet the wishes of the United States.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK

London, Oct. 13.—The sinking of the British steamer Gardepee is announced by Lloyds. Twelve members of the crew have been landed and 13 are missing.

The British steamer Gardepee, of 1,-665 gross tons, was last reported as having sailed from Fraserburgh, Scotland, on August 22, for Archangel. She was built in Sunderland in 1882 and was owned in Cardiff.

BELIEVES NO NEW ISSUES ARE RAISED

Lord Cecil of the Opinion That the Submarine Question Still Remains Unchanged

REVIEWS THE SITUATION

Discusses With Associated Press the Latest Development in Relations Between England and the United States.

London, Oct. 13.—The operations of the German submarine boat U-53 off the American coast raises no new issues, as far as the British government is concerned, in the opinion of Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, who discussed today with the Associated Press the latest development in the relations between Great Britain and the United States. Lord Robert declared that this form of warfare on merchantmen violated international law as it was recognized by Great Britain and the United States before the war and was still objectionable to Great Britain, but no more so than when it is done on this side of the water.

Black-List Reply Dispatched.

Referring to reports of meetings between Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attache of the British embassy at Washington, with American bankers and business men Lord Robert said no departure in principle had been made from the British blockade measures, but it could be safely said that the general policy leaned in the directon of a modificaton rather than an extension of the blacklist. The reply to the American blacklist note was now on the way to Washington and this answered the American criticism of the principles behind the measure. As regards the administration of the blacklist, Lord Robert said Washington had forwarded very few individual complaints about it.

Replying to the charge that Great Britain is violating its equal treatment provisions of the Anglo-American treaty of commerce and navigation of 1815, by granting license to Japanese and French exporters, while refusing permits to American shippers for similar goods, Lord Robert said that such restrictions were in the hands of the board of trade, but that he was personally of the opinion that such treaties lost validity during a state of war.

Germany's Efforts Will Fail.

Continuing, the minister of war trade said:

"German public opinion appears to be obscessed with the idea that the way to deal with the alleged blockade is to have a succession of sudden crises with neutrals, which may be used for striking diplomatic bargains. These bargains, in the mind of Germany, always take one form—that Germany is to refrain from violating international law in return for the abandonment by Great Britain as toward neutrals of the legitimate military and naval measures of the Allies.

"In the last few weeks, there has been a recrudescence of this idea in Germany, coupled with a good deal of talk of peace and mediation and the press of the whole world is now conjecturing that the appearance of a submarine off the coast of the United States is tre first step in a new attempt at a bargain of this kind. It is an ingenius idea, but it does not have the advantage of being novel among nations. It has been the usual device re-

KINSTON SELECTED FOR 1917 MEETING OF U. D. C.

Annual State Convention at Gastonia is Adjourned.

Members to Join in Gettysburg Battlefield Investigation—Steps Taken to Promote Sons of Veterans Organization.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Gastonia, N. C., Oct. 13.—With the selection of Kinston as the meeting place for 1917 and the hearing and adopting of numerous important reports and resolutions, the twentieth annual convention of the North Carolina Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy came to an end here this afternoon after having been in session since Tuesday evening.

Resolutions adopted at the closing session placed the convention on record as saying that the present convention has been one of the most delightful, harmonious and profitable ever held by the division, and the people of the city were very highly commended for their splendid entertainment.

A committee composed of the retiring president, Mrs. R. E. Little, Mrs. Felix Harvey, Mrs. Marshall Williams, Mrs. Thad W. Thrash, the new president, and which will probably be enlarged later, was appointed to help the committee of men appointed some time ago to visit the battlefield of Gettysburg and establish definitely the point to which the North Carolina troops advanced, thus establishing beyond a peradventure the claim made that the North Carolina troops went "farthest at Gettysburg" as well as having been "first at Bethel" and "last at Appomattox." It is hoped to have

MR. WILSON BACK AT SHADOW LAWN

TO COME ON EIGHT TRAINS

Mr. Wilson Reads Report From the Navy Department on German U-Boat Raid—Will Speak in Chicago Next Week.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 13.—President Wilson returned to Shadow Lawn today from Indianapolis and will not leave again until next Wednesday, when he will start for Chicago to deliver one or more speeches. As soon as he arrived here he read reports from Washington on the investigation made by the Navy Department into the German submarine attacks off the American coast last Sunday. The vanguard of Pennsylvanians who will be guests tomorrow for "Pennsylvania day," at Shadow Lawn, began arriving tonight.

A. Mitchel Palmer, Democratic National Commiteeman from Pennsylvania, who will introduce the President at the meeting, said the main delegation will come here on eight special trains, accompanied by seven bands.

Because of rain here today, arrangements were made for the President to speak to the delegation in a local theatre if it rains tomorrow.

The President and Mrs. Wilson went golfing late this afternoon and were caught in a severe rain storm.

GUARDSMEN RETURN AFTER "HIKE" OF EIGHTY-SIX MILES

Troops of Tenth Division Drenched in Hard Rains.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 13.—Soaked from the hard rains of the last 24 hours and shivering from the cold wind which pierced their summer uniforms, 15,000 National Guard troops of the tenth provisional division reached this city at noon today, after a "hike" of 86 miles which required 13 days to complete. General Morton, commanding the tenth division, reviewed the troops as they marched into the city in a drizzling rain.

Troops from South Carolina, Ohio, Michigan, Massachusetts and Kentucky participated in the marching which was to Las Cruces, N. M., 43 miles north of El Paso, and return.

STEAMER ARBOREAN PLACED UNDER THE NORWEGIAN FLAG

Ship, Which Was in Port in Wilmington Recently, is Re-Christened.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 13.— The American-Hawaiian freighter Arborean today was placed under the Norwegian flag here and rechristened the Vaarli. The steamer is the third of the line to be purchased by a Norwegian firm within the past two weeks. Unique ceremonies marked the formal transfer. The price paid for the Vaarli has not been made public.

The steamship Arborean was in port at Wilmington a few weeks ago, having arrived here from a Chilean port With a cargo of fertilizer material. It was reported here that the vessel had been sold but this could not be confirmed.

ANSWER VIEWS TAKEN BY JOFFRE AND HAIG

German Military Critic Sums Up Results of Somme Drive

Says Views of the British Commander are Curiously Opposite to Those Taken by the French Commander.

Berlin, Oct. 13 (by wireless).—In answer to the views of Generals Joffre and Haig as to the results of the Anglo-French offensive on the Somme, and also in reviewing the situation on other fronts, the military critic of the Overseas News Agency, a semi-official bureau writes:

"Just as General Joffre did, General Haig now feels obliged to strike a balance of the Somme battle. His review of the result of the battle which already has raged more than three months, was published a few days ago. In it, the British commander takes a view curiously opposite to that taken by the French commander, who considers the gain of terrain as the main result.

"The British general says: 'The uninterrupted systematic pressure of the Entente armies must finally exhaust the morale and material forces of the Central Powers, especially as to the existing reserves of war material.' This so-called strategy of wearing out their opponents, through which a great decision of the war was expected, however, has accomplished very little as proved by the great successes gained by the Central Powers, who still have such forces at their disposal that they are able to carry out gigantic offensives. Thus it is evident their reserves cannot be exhausted, but rather there

MAKES A PLEA TO WORKING PEOPLE

Dr. Melish, Addressing Episcopal Convention, Urges Them to Join the Church

SAYS THEY ARE HOSTILE

Steps Looking to a Re-United Christendom Are Announced by the Rev. B. Talbot Rogers, of Racine, Wisconsin.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 13.—A plea to the working people of America to come into the church was made by Rev. Dr. J. Howard Melish, of Brooklyn, in an address in the social service forum in connection with Protestant Episcopal convention here today. He asserted that in the American churches today can be found people of culture and social standing, but that it is the worker who is absent.

"The church started among the workers in th ebeginning, a tent maker being its chief missionary and his fellow workmen its first members in Europe," Dr. Melish said. "Today," he continued, "the workers in Catholic and Protestant countries alike are indifferent or hostile to the church."

Dr. Melish held that the church can only regain the working people of Christendom by understanding them.

"First, the workers want a new industrial environment," he continued. "One-third, and possibly one-half, of the families of wage earners earn, in the course of the year, less than enough to support them in anything like comfort.

"There is no use telling employers to be kind and generous, our competitive system is morally and socially bankrupt. The workers know it, and ask for soil where the seed of real human, individual and social life may bring forth fruit abundantly.

"The church now recognizes the rich as the class which its missions and philanthrophies are carried on. In the same way why shonld it not recognize the wage earning class as the instrumentality under God by which the new economic order is to oe introduced?"

Steps looking toward a re-united Christendom were announced by the Rev. B. Halbot Rogers, of Racine, Wis., in presenting to the house of deputies the report of the committee of world conference for the consideration of questions toughing faith and order.

"In the last three years 28 commissions or commmittees of the various Christian churches have been appointed to work toward the goal, making a total of 58 religious bodies co-operating on August 1,' the report said.

"Among them are the various branches of the Anglican community, the Baptists, Congregationalists, Disciples of Christ, Society of Friends, Lutherans, Methodists, Moravians, Old Catholics and Presbyterians."

The Right Rev. Arthur C. A. Hall, bishop of Vermont, in introducing a resolution at a joint session of missions of the two houses of the convention, urged that in fixing the stipend of the president of the church board of missions for the nevt six years, it consider whether the present salary of $9,500 annually and traveling expenses is too large. The term of Bishop Arthur S. Lloyd, the present president, expires with this convention.

After some discussion it was held that the joint session had not authority to deal with the matter.

38,000-TON WARSHIPS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Huge Battleships Would Mount Twelve 16-Inch Rifles

This Radical Increase in Size Favored by General Board for Vessels Authorized to be Contracted for Next Year.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Navy officials anticipate that American battleships authorized next year will be built to carry main batteries of twelve 16-inch rifles as against the eight 16-inch guns to be put on the ships for which bids will be opened October 25. Members of the General Board, which now is considering the characteristics for the next battle craft to be designed, are said to be in favor of radically increasing the size of the new battleships in order that the 50 per cent increase in gun-power may be attained.

To carry twelve 16-inch rifles it has been roughly estimated that the ships would require a displacement of probably 38,000 tons, as against the 32,000 tonnage of the four ships to be laid down next year. The first of the larger ships will not be laid down, in all probability, before 1918.

The General Board favored four 36,-000-ton vessels carrying ten 16-inch guns each, for the coming year. The decision of the department to make them 32,000-ton ships with eight guns each, it is said, came of the desire to hasten construction by reproducing ships of the California and Tennessee type, now building at the Mare Island and New York navy yards, with only such modifications as were necessary to arm them with 16-inch instead of 14-inch rifles.

Rumors have reached the Navy De-

RUMANIANS STEADILY BEING DRIVEN FROM AUSTRIAN TERRITORY

They Are, However, Stubbornly Resisting the Onsalughts of the Austro-Germans

ITALIANS CONTINUE DRIVE

Vienna Admits Loss of the Town of Novavas But Claims Capture of 2,700 Prisoners

ANGLO-FRENCH REPULSED

Steadily the pressure of the Austro-German forces is compelling the Rumanian troops, who invaded Transylvania less than eight weeks ago, to fall back upon or toward their own frontier. In eastern Transylvania, north of Kronstadt, Berlin reports additional territory free of Rumanians. Southeast of Kronstadt, the Austro-Germans have also been successful against the invaders, The Rumanians, however, are offering stubborn resistence. Bucharest reports the repulse by them of attacks on the frontier of southern Transylvania.

Further Gains for Italians.

Violent infantry fighting continues on the Carso front in the Austro-Italian theatre, with further successes for the Italians. In the vicinity of Gorizia and to the south of this region, they have repulsed heavy Austrian counter attacks, inflicting heavy casualties, and east of Doberdo have approached the second Austrian line, taking 400 prisoners.

Austrians Take 2,700 Prisoners.

Vienna admits the loss of the town of Novavas, but announces that the Austrians put down Italian attacks at other points on the Carso plateau and made 2,700 men prisoner. In the Pasubio region of the Trentino sector some additional gains in ground are claimed by the Italians.

Anglo-French Repulsed.

The French and British have been repulsed in a new attempt to break through the German lines between the Ancre and the Somme rivers in France. The British attacked in the district around Gueudecourt and the French near Sailly, but neither was able to pierce the defense of the Germans, although London claims a slight advance near Gueudecourt. South of the Somme stubborn fighting is still in progress at Genermont and Ablaincourt.

On Macedonian Front

In Macedonia the Entente offensive apparently has come to a halt. British advance guards have been active east of the Struma, but on the remainder of the front there has been little activity. A belated report from Sofia records the repulse of six Serbian attacks at Sjochivir on the Cerna river.

Likewise the operations in Volhynia and Galicia have apparently lessened greatly in violence, for neither the Petrograd nor Berlin war office mentions any fighting in these zones. To the north of Pinsk marshes, in Russia, however, the Germans have attacked Russian trenches on the west bank of Shara river. Petrograd says the attack was repulsed with heavy losses.

DECIDES GREECE'S FUTURE DEPENDS ON JOINING ALLIES

Athens, Oct. 10, via London, Oct. 13, (Delayed.)—King Constantine motored in from Tatoi, his summer residence, this evening and called and presided at a meeting of the crown council, in which he presented the report of Prince Andrew, his brother, who has just returned from a visit to the Entente capitals. The king discussed the form which Greece's proposals to the Entente with a view of abandoning neutrality should take and declared his conviction that Greece's future depended upon her joining the Entente. He expressed a readiness to do so, not demanding more than a guarantee of the integrity of Greece and such material as necessary for equipping the army as essential to render Greek participation in the war real value to the Allies.

Discussing a telegram from M. Romanos, the Greek minister to France, on September 30, reporting a conversation with Premier Briand, the sovereign pointed out that the three compensations which the French premier offered informally did not include a guarantee of integrity and he expressed the opinion that Gerece's entry into the hostilities was impossible without official pledge to this effect from the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia.

The king stated further that he was not disposed at this time to insist even upon discussing Greece's territorial aspirations, to which Premier Briand referred, but he felt that a war cabinet, when formed should have a character to inspire the confidence of a great majority of the country, without which any full mobilization would be impossible.

CANDIDATE HUGHES INVADES MISSOURI

Pictures "Deplorable Conditions" That Will Follow Ending of European Struggle

SAYS WAR IS A STIMULANT

Says Democratic Tariff Policy Means "Idle Plants and Impoverished Workmen"—Again Assails Adamson Law.

Joplin, Mo., Oct. 13.—Charles E. Hughes today took his campaign to Missouri, the fourth of the states that skirt the so-called "solid South" to be visited on his present trip. Save for one stop at Springfield, Mo., the entire day was spent traveling. The nominee reached Joplin tonight nearly three hours behind scheduled time, and addressed an audience in a big tent, making his chief theme the protective tariff.

Mr. Hughes told the crowd that the present prosperity of the country was built on sand, that "the intoxicated fancy may indulge in happy dreams, but the sober thought of the country is directed to the day when this stimulant—the European war—will be no longer available."

He referred to "those who are seeking to make political capital out of our present war prosperity," portrayed in details conditions as he viewed them in the United States when the war shall end and assailed the Democratic tariff policy as a policy which means "idle plants and impoverished workmen."

At Springfield, and again here tonight, Mr. Hughes assailed the administration for the enactment of the Adamson law.

"No thoughtful American can view our present economic condition without serious apprehension," Mr. Hughes told his audience here. "We are under the unhealthy stimulus of the European war. Hopes are raised which cannot be fulfilled. Our present prosperity is built on said.

PENROSE CALLS FOR HELP

Shows Worry Over Rising Wilson Tide in Pennsylvania.

New York, Oct. 13.—Senator Penrose and the other managers of the Hughes campaign in Pennsylvania now believe that President Wilson has a good chance of carrying the State on November 7. Penrose is plainly worried over the outlook, and he is making desperate efforts to stem the Wilson tide.

This was the news brought to Chairman McCormick, of the Democratic National Committee, by Joseph F. Guffey, chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Committee. Mr. Guffey is jubilant over the outlook in the Keystone State, which, he says, is improving every day.

"There must be something wrong," said Mr. Guffey, "when Penrose insists that the two Republican star speakers, Hughes and Roosevelt, spend so much of their time in a State long considered the 'blackest' Republican state in the Union.

"It looks as though the Republicans have given up the doubtful states to concentrate their ecorts to hold the normally Republican states in line."

RECOMMEND MORE GENERAL USE OF POTATOES FOR BREAD

Government Baking Specialists Point Out the Advantages.

Washington, Oct. 13.—More general use of potatoes in making bread is recommended by the baking specialists of the Department of Agriculture. Bread containing boiled and mashed potatoes was found during experiments just conc luded to be just as nutritious as ordinary bread and to have the quality of remaining fresh longer.

In their experiments the government experts baked excellent bread with three pounds of potatoes and 2 1-2 pounds of flour. Three recipes have been formulated.

BACON REPLIES TO ATTACK ON HIM BY THE PRESIDENT

Says Statement Made at Shadow Lawn is Beneath Contempt

New York, Oct. 13.—Robert Bacon, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from New York at the recent primary election, made public tonight copies of an "open letter" he has written to President Wilson with a caption saying that it is a reply "to an attack upon him by President Wilson in the course of his speech at Shadow Lawn last Saturday."

BOSTON TEAM DIVIDES SPOILS OF THE SERIES

Twenty-Two Players Receive Total of $3,826.25 Each

Several Others Get Smaller Amounts—Manager Carrigan, Who Says He is Out of Baseball, is Bidden Farewell.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 13.—The Boston Americans today divided the winners' spoils of the world's series, which they closed with a victory over the Brooklyn Nationals here yesterday. Under the apportionment decided upon by the players at a secret meeting, full shares of $3,826.25 each were given 22 players, including several who had figured but little in the team's success.

The remainder of the $97,756.47 which the team won was given to other substitutes and club employes. Heine Wagner and Vean Gregg received three quarters of a share each; Wyckoff and Pennock divided one share and Walsh, who came to the team only in the last month of the season, was allowed $1,000. Edward Riley, the former secretary and Charles Green, the club trainer, were given $500 each, and other employes were remembered with lesser sums down to the bat boy and mascot, who received $50.

The meeting of the players was marked by the farewell of Manager William Carrigan to the team, which he had piloted to world honors two successive years. He said he was "through with baseball for all time." President Lannin, in bidding the players God-speed, however, said he was still hoping that Carrigan would return.

George Foster, former crack pitcher, who suffered from a lame arm this season, notwithstanding which he pitched a no-hit game, also announced his retirement. He will develop his farm as Bokoshe, Okla., he said. Carrigan's plans are uncertain. He laughed at reports that he would enter politics.

Some of the Red Sox will remain together for a few days to play an exhibition game at New Haven, Conn., next Sunday, when they will be man? aged by Capt. Jack Barry.

Others started in their motors today for trips that will take them to hunting preserves in Canada or to their homes in distant places, some in California. Carrigan will have a party [illegible] camp at Lake Annabessacook, Me., and a number of players who are married, will take their families in a group to Plymouth, N. H., for a short hunting trip.

An offer of Mayor Curley to provide a banquet for the team was declined with thanks, the players desiring to follow their original plans.

BROOKLYN PLAYERS EACH RECEIVE $2,715.40 CHECK

New York, Oct. 13.—Each of the 24 players of the Brooklyn National baseball club who were entitled to a share of the world's series receipts received a check for $2,715.40 today. The amount divided among the players was $65,170.98. Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyns, and Lew McCarty, catcher for the New York Nationals, who until recently was a member of the Brooklyn team, were included in the distribution.

Nap Rucker, who pitched the final innings of Wednesday's game for Brooklyns, announced that his baseball career is over. His arm, he said, continued to pain him when he pitches and he has decided to retire.

CONNECTICUT MAN WINS THE LEECH CUP IN TRAP SHOOT

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 13.—Three scores of 104 out of a possible 105 were made today in the contest for the Leech cup, one of the most highly valued trophies offered by the National Rifle Association of America at the National rifle tournament now in progress at the Florida range near here.

W. H. Richards, a civilian of New Haven, Conn., was declared winner, being the only one to have a perfect score on the 1,000 yard range.

HE DOESN'T KNOW HIMSELF

Demented Stranger Kept in Jail at Goldsboro Indefinitely.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 13.—Miss Lila Dicks, missionary for the Carolina Prisoners Aid Society, who came to this city to see if she could find out if there were any needy families of prisoners, who failed in this effort, then endeavored to see if she could be of aid to a man who has been confined in the county jail for several months, who claims that he does not know his name or where he came from. Miss Dicks interviewed the man but could get no information from him of benefit and was forced to give up her efforts as a hopeless case. The county has been forced to keep the stranger a prisoner owing to the fact that the county physician pronounced him demented and an effort to get him in the hospital for insane at Raleigh failed.

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 13.—In a one-sided game of football played in this city this afternoon between the high schools of Goldsboro and Kinston, the former won by a score of 12 to 0. Several thousand spectators witnessed the game played at the fair grounds.

CAROLINA WILL CLASH WITH HARVARD TODAY

Washington and Lee Also Plays on an Eastern Gridiron

First Real Tests of the Football Season in the S. I. A. A. Expected to Take Place on the Southern Gridirons.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 13.—The first real tests of the 1916 football season for teams in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association are expected in games scheduled for Southern gridirons tomorrow. Combinations which have been running up large scores against weak elevens were slated to meet others which have proved themselves no mean foes during the early play.

The Eastern invasion is to be continued by North Carolina and Washington and Lee. The Tar Heels will meet Harvard at Cambridge, while the Generals journeyed to New Brunswick, N. J., to play Rutgers. Both Southern teams met defeat last week, North Carolina at the hands of Princeton, and Washington and Lee by the Army.

Of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association leagues, Georgia Tech probably will be watched most closely in its meeting with Davidson here. The Yellow Jackets last week showed that they have a powerful and bewildering offensive by running up the enormous score of 222 to 0 against Cumberland. Davidson held Virginia to two touchdowns and a week ago beat North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical 16 to 0. Tech last year beat Davidson 21 to 7.

Two other games that will be watched with interest will be the meeting between Virginia and Richmond College, at Charlottesville, and between Virginia Polytechnic Institute and West Virginia, at Charleston.

Vanderbilt, according to reports, expects a tough foe in Kentucky State at Lexington. The Kentuckians last week beat Center College 55 to 0, while Vanderbilt was running up 42 points on Transylvania.

Florida gets into action for the first time this season against Georgia, at Athens. Last year Georgia beat Florida 37 to 0.

Tennessee and Clemson, at Clemson, should furnish a good contest. Last year Clemson beat Tennessee, 3 to 0.

Chattanooga, which has a heavy team this year, meets Mississippi A. & M., at Chattanooga.

Auburn's meeting with Mercer, at Auburn, is expected to furnish something for comparison of the Auburn and Georgia Tech teams.

Tech scored 61 points to Mercer's 0 two weeks ago. Auburn won from Mercer a year ago 45 to 0.

Mississippi college journeys to Tuscaloosa to meet Alabama, which last week defeated Southern 8 to 0. Sewanee, after a 73 to 0 victory over Morgan last week, will meet Maryville at Sewanee. Mississippi University plays Hendrix at Oxford, Mississippi; Tulane meets Spring Hill college, at New Orleans, and South Carolina and Wooford clash at Columbia.

HARVARD-CAROLINA GAME WILL BE CLOSELY WATCHED

New York, Oct. 12.—With the curtain down on baseball for 1916, football will come into its own tomorrow with a number of contests on the Eastern gridirons promising close struggles.

Interest will center largely in the meeting between Harvard and the University of North Carolina at Harvard and the battle between Princeton and Tufts at Princeton. The Southern team is expected to offer the Crimson a determined opposition throughout the entire play, while Tufts, elated with its recent victory over Harvard, is in a position to give Princeton one of the hardest battles of the year.

Yale will have Lehigh as an opponent and the powerful Eli eleven is expected to secure revenge for the scare that the smaller institution gave the Blue a year ago, when a goal from touchdown was the only thing that saved Yale from a tie.

The University of Pennsylvania will have its old-time rival, Swarthmore, at Franklin Field. The Navy will play the University of Pittsburg, which overwhelmingly defeated the Naval cadets last fall.

Holy Cross, which held the Army to a tie game in 1915, again will be the guests of the cadets at West Point.

Cornell will have Williams as an opponent, Dartmouth will tackle the Massachusetts Aggies; Brown plays Amherst, and Rutgers will meet the Washington and Lee combination which last season was a remarkable scoring machine.

In addition to these contests there are a number of other games in which closely matched elevens will meet, among them the following:

Syracuse vs Franklin and Marshall; Washington and Jefferson vs Marietta; Georgetown vs Eastern College; Brown vs Amherst; Bucknell vs Susquehanna; Columbia vs University of Vermont; Dickinson vs Albright; Lafayette vs Ursinus; New York University vs Haverford; Pennsylvania State vs West Virginia Wesleyan; Johns Hopkins vs Washington College; Lebanon Valley vs Villa Nova; Gettysburg vs George Washington; University of Maine vs R. I. State; Wesleyan vs Bowdoin; University of Rochester vs Clarkson, and Catholic University vs Randolph.

KINSTON SELECTED FOR 1917 MEETING OF U. D. C.

this done before the Confederate veterans gather in Washington next April for their annual reunion. This step will no doubt hasten the work of placing suitable markers on the battlefield of Gettysburg which will direct the attention of all visitors to this important point in North Carolina's war history.

The convention took a decided stand in favor of the encouragement of the organization in this State of camps of the Sons of Veterans. North Carolina is entitled to more of these camps than any other state which belonged to the Confederacy, yet she has at present only two camps. Capt. William N. Everett, of Rockingham, who has been appointed grand commander of the Sons of Veterans for this State, was to have been here and presented this matter to the convention, but was unavoidably kept away. The purpose is to have the State divided into numerous brigades with commanders for each. The delegates manifested much interest in this project and will give it their hearty support in every way possible. Mrs. Little was appointed chairman of a committee to assist in organizing these camps and every chapter in the State will be asked to render all possible aid.

To Do Prison Reform Work.

Steps were taken looking to the entry of the Daughters into active prison reform work. Mrs. B. H. Griffin, the State chaplain, who resides in Raleigh, was put in charge of this work. The intention is to engage the interes tof the chapter members all over the State in a feature of prison work which is neglected all too much.

They will, of course, have in mind especially the rendering of service to descendants of Confederate veterans who have been so unfortunate as to find them selves in prison. This field, it was stated, holds wonderful opportunities for great reclamation work and it means very likely that it will be rapidly developed under the guiding hand of Mrs. Griffin.

Mrs. Little was appointed official story teller for the State division and in this capacity will, as opportunity arises, present to the members of the younger generation in the form of stories, the life of the old South and thus help to keep alive in the children of the South the love for the old days and old things that animate the hearts of the Daughters themselves.

$400 for Women's Home.

A gift of $400 from Mrs. T. W. Trash was announced, the money to be used for completing the annex to the Confederate Women's Home, at Fayetteville. Most of the delegates left tonight for their respective homes.

DEDICATE TABLET TO THE LATE RECTOR OF CHURCH

Charleston Congregation Honors Memory of Rev. F. A. DeRossett.

The dedication of a memorial tablet to the late Rev. Frederick Ancrum DeRossett, rector at the time of his death of the Church of the Holy Communion in Charleston, which was held with marked and impressive ceremonies on last Sunday night will be of much interest to people in Wilmington as he was born and reared in this city and has many relatives here.

A large congregation was present at the unveiling of the tablet, which is pure white marble, according to the Charleston Evening Post. Bishop Guerry and the Rev. H. W. Starr, rector of the church, conducted the service.

"I Heard a Sound of Voices" was sung as a processional after which the service of evening prayer was said. During the singing of a hymn by the congregation, Bishop Guerry and the clergy gathered about the tablet on the north side of the building and with the closing verses unveiled it. An address of eulogy was delivered by the bishop, who spoke of his life-long acquaintance and friendship with the deceased and of the latter's constant energy and helpfulness and his broad-mindedness and lack of bigotry. An augmented vested choir carried out an elaborate musical programme.

The inscription on the tablet reads: Erected by this congregation to the glory of God and in grateful memory of the Reverend Frederick Ancrum DeRossett M. A.

ASHEVILLE LABOR MEN SAY "SOMEBODY LIED"

Barrett, Republican, Says 75 Per Cent Are for Wilson

Literary Digest Badly in Error When It Says Sentiment in Asheville District Is Turning Toward Hughes, Say Leaders.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 13.—"Somebody lied." This is the opinion of leading union labor men of Asheville after reading a report in the Literary Digest, credited to the Central Labor Union of Asheville, in which it was stated in regard to Mr. Hughes' standing with union labor "that sentiment is rapidly turning toward him."

Following the appearance of the Literary Digest here, with its statement from the "Central Labor Union of Asheville, N. C.," that the sentiment of the union labor men here is turning from Wilson to Hughes, John B. Lindsay, president of the Central Labor Union, a Democrat, and James F. Barrett, former secretary of the State Federation of Labor, declared that President Wilson will get from seventy-five to eighty-five per cent of the union labor vote in the Asheville district.

While Mr. Lindsay's statement might be attributed to partisanship, the fact that Mr. Barrett has been a life-long Republican lends an added significance to his words, and other union men of the city back up the statement of these two men.

Both the gentlemen offer to back their statement with a poll of organized labor in the Asheville district, they to stand the expense if the poll shows their figures incorrect and the doubter to stand the expense if the poll shows seventy-five per cent or more of the labor vote for Woodrow Wilson, the laboring man's president.

Buncombe Feels Slighted.

Buncombe county feels slighted. When the federal relief fund for the restoration of roads in the stricken district was distributed, not a dollar was appropriated to Buncombe, although this county suffered as heavy road losses in the flood as any county in the west. Buncombe wants a share of the federal aid, but not for the Buncombe county roads.

Members of the Buncombe county good roads association have written Governor Craig and Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt asking that a suitable share of the funds be set aside in the name of Buncombe county and used to effect needed repairs on the Hickory Nut Gap road.

UNIVERSITY CELEBRATES ITS 123RD ANNIVERSARY DAY

Dr. Edwin Mims, of Vanderbilt, the Chief Speaker of the Occasion.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 13.—The University celebrated its 123rd birthday here yesterday under ideal weather conditions and with a large crowd assembled in Memorial Hall for the formal programme of the morning. Dr. Edwin Mims, of Vanderbilt University, was the chief speaker of the occasion.

Perhaps the feature of this year's celebration was the dramatic return of the original cornerstone plate of the first building of the University, laid in 1793, to the University, after it had been apparently lost since soon after the Civil War. It was recovered a few days ago in a foundry in Clarksville, Tenn., and returned to the University just in time for the anniversary celebration, being presented by Grand Master A. B. Andrews, of Raleigh, on behalf of the Masons, who originally placed it in the cornerstone.

The speaker on the occasion was introduced by President Graham as a "speaker, author, scholar and teacher." "Our welcome in fellowship," he said, "goes deeper than any sort of learning or achievement. We still claim Dr. Mims for this memory that lingers still."

Dr. Mims took as his subject "The Imagination: Its Place in Our Life and Thinking." He showed convincingly how imagination had been at the back of most of the great achievements of the world, whether they were literary, or social, or scientific or religious. The distinction was drawn between imagination and fancy, which are so often confused as to make the very word imagination one associated with dreamers, lovers, poets and lunatics. "I maintain," said the speaker, "that imagination is one of the regal powers of the mind, that a man of imagination holds the key to many of our most vital needs and problems, that the cultivation of the various forms of imagination is one of the primal needs of the individual and of society."

PRESIDENT WRIGHT IN RALEIGH

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—Dr. R. H. Wright, president of the East Carolina Teacher Training School, spent the day here as president of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, going over the tentative programme for the annual session here Thanksgiving week with Secretary E. President Wright is delighted with the outlook for the very best programme in the history of the Assembly and is confident that the attendance will break all previous records.

THEATRICAL

Royal patrons were disappointed yesterday when the great Triangle picture did not come, but the large crowds who can attend on Saturday will be the gainers, as it will be on hand today, sure, and the greatest Triangle feature of the year presenting that fascinating and bewitching little screen star, Dorothy Gish, co-starring with handsome Owen Moore in a great five-act David W. Griffith Fine Arts production, "Susan Rocks the Boat," those two presenting a picture that will go straight to the hearts of every patron of the house, a picture on the idleness of the rich young girls of today.

Like all Fine Arts productions, this picture is possessed of a genuine dramatic idea, which is: that the present state of society produces "sweet young things," who imagine that they can become reformers, although they are entirely ignorant of the perils into which they may fall in doing so.

Fascinating little Dorothy Gish is cast in such a character. Inspired to become a modern Joan of Arc, Susan opens a settlement house and tries to uplift the people of the slums. She is only rescued from the ultimate doom by Larry O'Neill, a young man of the slums, played by Owen Moore in his usual dashing manner. The upshot is that Larry and Susan find that they love each other.

"The Web of Guilt"—Bijou.

"The Web of Guilt" is the title of today's great episode of "The Girl From 'Frisco" that daring Kalem series of two reel thrillers which is the headliner on today's bill at the Bijou. Every Saturday now you can depend on at least one great feature at the Bijou—the current chapter of this great series of photoplays in which is starred those two great favorites of the films, Marin Sais, and True Boardman, two of the most brilliant stars with Kalem. Miss Sais is one of the most beautiful of all film girls and lends a delightful charm to this thoroughly thrilling series of two-reel photoplays. True Boardman, handsome, dashing, strong dramatic actor, is at his very best in "The Girl From 'Frisco" series and does some of the best acting of his entire career.

You were promised a big two-reel Keystone comedy yesterday which did not show up. However, the management has been assured that it will be on hand for showing today and thus the great Saturday week-end crowds will get the advantage of also witnessing one of the very greatest of all Triangle-Keystone screams, "Bathtub Perils" starring inimitable Fred Mace, with other Keystone favorites.

"The Suffragette General."

Jack Grant, the greatest blackface comedian who ever entertain ed audiences at the Victoria theatre, is funnier than ever in his inimitable role in the new show which was presented there for the first time yesterday afternoon, the superb Winter Garden Girls Company presenting a dashing musical comedy farce "The Suffragette General," one of the brightest comedy sketches of the entire week by this all-star aggregation of artists.

Jack is undoubtedly the most original comedian seen this season; it's not altogether what he does but how he does it that goes over so big and every act of his is a new scream, one that thoroughly delights the large crowds who are nightly attending this big show.

But there are others who deserve special mention in this show, too. Miss Lola Vann, in the role of the Cuffragette General, with Miss Eva Hurley as the Suffragette Corporal, with Misses Ryer, Byrd, Dundelach, Sue Smith, Mae Burke, as the pretty suffragette "privates" added to the general good time, and with some of the spiciest and prettiest musical numbers of the entire week, some new and nifty costumes and pretty special scenery, it is a bill that is bound to go over big with the large week-end crowds today and tonight.

Charlie Chaplin at Grand.

You've laughed at Charlie Chaplin in many two-reel pictures recently; you have seen him in one reelers; but you have never seen the million dollar comedian before in a three-reel comedy production.

Today at the Grand the first three-reel Chaplin comedy entitled "Charlie's Picnic," will be presented, and when we assure you in advance that you will not leave the theatre alive if your heart is in the least weak, you may imagine something of the great funfest that is in store for you today at the Grand.

"Charlie's Picnic" was a picnic in every sense of the word. He encountered everything imaginable when he went in quest of nature in the woods and the fields; Charlie is a great little nature lover, but human nature made him skip quick when the big bull in the pasture got behind his red necktie. Charlie also states that he now has a pet aversion to all colored mammies since he was rapped over the coco with a washboard in the hands of one of these old landmarks while in quest of some fresh chicken fruit in the barn yard nearby.

"Charlie's Picnic" is a veritable howl from beginning to end, and contains some of the very funniest stunts that this great comedian ever pulled off. If you want three quarters of an hour of real genuine laughs and enjoyment also some other big features as a filler-in, don't fail to see "Charlie's Picnic" at the Grand today.

FARMER CAPTURES PICKPOCKET

Held the Hand That Was Trust Into His Pocket Until Officer Came.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 13.—Mr. James W. Thompson, a prominent farmer of this county, had a novel experience Wednesday afternoon which resulted in his capturing a pickpocket. He had with him a party of five ladies at the fair, and just as they were taking the street car for the city and he was assisting the last one of them on the car he felt a hand thrust into his trousers pocket in the jam. He quietly, but quickly, seized the hand and, although the owner thereof struggled fiercely, Mr. Thompson held him securely until an officer arrived and the would-be pickpocket had a hearing before Mayor Higgins and by having a good lawyer escaped with a fine of $20.

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 13.—Mr. Daniel Edwards, of Wilmington, a brother of Sheriff Bob Edwards, of this county, is in the city today taking in the fair and being a native of Wayne county, he informed a newspaper man that he has to pinch himself occasionally to make sure he is awake and not walking in a land of dreams.

TOP O' THE MORNING.

The thoughts of old, dear things is in thine eyes,
O, month of memories!
I see thee stand where all thy sisters meet
To cast down at thy feet
The garnered largess of the fruitful year.
—From John Charles McNeill's "October."

The man and his money soon part for a few bites of something to eat.

A man of honest convictions is proof against the man with only mischievous conceptions.

"Always jump on a man your size," urges a writer. Well, if he is our size, it's no use to jump on him.

If Truth tries to analyze the political situation, it will be called a liar, if not several of the same sort.

When the people expect a joint debate on the stump they generally find out that they wasted time on a two-by-four dispute.

This paragraph has no politics in it, so's you'd notice it. We needed one of that kind, so we just wrote it and left out politics.

The only menace to the peace and prosperity of this country would be in the election of a Republican President and Congress.

Even a wise man and his money are soon parted these days, if he has to pay house rent and buy all his family eats as well as wears.

A political secret is sure to be a lie. If there were anything in it, the thing would be told on the stump and passed around as an argument.

A Republican today may be a Democrat tomorrow—very probably will if he eliminates the last particle of prejudice from his mind and consider only the welfare of his country.

Billy Sunday is making arrangements to begin a revival in New York in April. Of course, Billy might begin it then, but it will take a long time to have a revival in New York.

Long Island boasts of a pumpkin that weights 500 pounds. Something about its size should be dropped from an upper story on a cross-roads politician who tells people that potatoes and pumpkins won't grow while the Democrats are in power.

Why vote for Hughes? Because Wilson has done something in a way that you think you don't approve? Well, what evidence have you that Hughes' way of doing it would be any better or any more satisfactory to the great majority of the American people?

If at first you don't succeed And should fail to turn the trick, They'll say you haven't got the speed, But have a gait like Mr. Snail. If you won't get in the rush And wan't push ahead and grab, They'll say piffle, pish and tush—You back off just like a crab.

The fact that Orangeburg, S. C., is to have a packing house has induced a party of Westerners to negotiate for land near Georgetown for the purpose of raising livestock. A nearby packing house market was all that was needed to assure the success of stock raising in a section so ideally adapted to it as is this portion of the South.

Another man who is walking across the continent for a wager. He needn't go out of his way to come to Wilmington to tell us about it and give us the name of the man who put up money on his hike. The only thing that interests us in walks of 3,000 miles and back, is that all the fools are not dead yet—especially those who part from their money on transcontinental hikes.

UNDER WHICH FLAG DO YOU FIGHT?

Mr. A. L. McCaskill, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, talks to the people as if he could cut all sorts of ice at Washington. It is hardly necessary, however, to remind the people concerning his inability to set the woods on fire as a member of Congress.

The man who gets himself sent to Washington on account of his exaggerated opinion of himself gets it trimmed down after he gets there and finds his class. It is always waiting for him, and when he finds himself he becomes either a "me too" or a bump on a log—generally both. We presume that the people are fully aware that a man who cuts very little figure in his district will never see himself cutting any doube S's among real statesmen at Washington.

The fact is a man can go around eating lion meat among the people of North Carolina but when he gets among statesmen at Washington he naturally gravitates to the peanut class and he will stay there until he grows into something big enough to be noticed among the galaxy of the Nation's big men.

The people of the Sixth district are very well satisfied with the services rendered by Representative Hannibal L. Godwin at Washington. They said so in the primary electionfi for they renominated Mr. Godwin because of his long experience in Congress. He has served his distrist to the best of his ability. He has been loyal to the Democratic party and has been an earnest and consistent supporter of President Wilson. He has not attempted to gain notoriety by assuming that he is bigger than his party, but he has been in thorough harmony with the Democratic congressmen who have stood back of Wilson in the achievement of constructive legislation. He has contributed his part and consequently he has his share in the great things done by a Democratic President and Congress in the interest of the people.

The people of the Sixth district will return Mr. Godwin to Congress and they ought to give him the biggest majority he ever got, in order to indicate to the Republicans that they need not bother about thinking that the people here want to send a Republican to Congress. Mr. McCaskill is not and never has been representative of the people of the Cape Fear, and they would have to lay down their standard and abandon their Tar Heel sentiment if they were to send McCaskill to Congress. He could not possibly represent our people because he is not representative of them in any particular. He does not represent even Southern sentiment, for he is a follower of Charles E. Hughes, who is making a fight, as he has announced, to put the South out of the saddle. If Hughes and McCaskill were accidentally elected, McCaskill would do team work with Hughes in his determination to curtail Southern influence at Washington.

We are proud of the fact that the South has proven itself to be so powerful at Washington that it has attracted the attention and aroused the envy of the Republican candidate for President. If the South's influence at Washington was negligible, all of us who believe in the South would be mortified on account of it. Nevertheless, we glory in the fact that the South is a brainy and virile part of this great Republic and that she sends true and great men to Washington to make her famous.

As a Southerner, it makes us cocky to know that the South has made them sit up and take notice of her. It is quite a compliment to the South for Judge Hughes to declaim against Southern potentiality at Washington. His opposition clearly indicates that he recognizes and is quite conscious of the power of the South. He hates to see the South cutting such a big figure in the greatest Nation on the face of the earth. Unlike Judge Hughes, we are glad of it and glory in it. McCaskill doesn't.

True people in this district are not going to vote for McCaskill or any of the Hughes crowd so long as they can manifest their true spirit by supporting Wilson and Godwin who are not enemies to the South. True men fight under the flag that is carried by their friends. They are never found in the camp of the enemy. There may be Republicans who do not hate the South, but the Republican party has not nominated one of that kind for President this time. On the contrary, they have nominated one who wants to get the South out of the saddle so he can put the South out of business.

Hughes drew the line himself and your true Southerner is not going to vote for an anti-South candidate nor any of his camp followers in the South. They have always been in the enemy's camp. Mr. Godwin is fighting under the Wilson flag, and we glory in Wilson because of the enemies he has made by an administration which recognizes the South as an integral and powerful part of this Nation.

Hughes would like to make the South a satrapy of the Union, but we won't let him. There's nothing doing for either Hughes or McCaskill.

The best reasons why Hughes should not be president have been declared on the stump by Hughes himself. His speeches indicate that there is not in him the elements of a great man. His narrow sectionalism shows that he is a man of no breadth and that he is running as a candidate for president of only one section of the country.

THEIR FRIENDS OF THE NORTH.

Apropos the exodus of negroes from the South to the North and the discussion of the relative treatment accorded the black man here and by his so-called better friends above the Mason and Dixon Line, an observant Wilmingtonian has called the attention of The Star to a big display, first-page news story in the New York American of Monday of this week. That story shows conclusively that the South alone is not guilty of all the "atrocities" towards the negro and that at times the average Northerner is quite as apt to lose his better judgment in an outburst of racial prejudice as is his Southern neighbor. However, here is the news article from the New York American:

"Two race uprisings occurred in Harlem last night. In one a negro was fatally injured, and in the other two white men received serious injuries.

"Enraged by an attack on a white youth, a mob in Harlem last night pursued Thomas Willis, a negro, through Lexington avenue from One Hundred and Nineteenth street to One Hundred and Twenty-first street. There they kicked him, jumped on him and stabbed him six times. He probably will die.

"The men who close in on Willis cried 'Lynch him,' 'String him up,' 'Hang the brute!' Leaders in the mob were preparing to carry out the threats when police reserves from the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station arrived.

"With clubs swinging right and left, policemen cleared a way to Willis. Others dispersed the yelling throng, which for a time vigorously struggled against the police. * * *

"Rioting between white persons and negroes waged furiously for three hours last night in the zone bounded by One Hundred and Twenty-fifth and One Hundred and Twenty-eighth streets and Third avenue and Second avenue.

"Joseph Santolli, a janitor, of No. 2487 Second avenue, is in Harlem hospital with a fractured skull, and Frank Paul, address unknown, is there with severe lacerations of the scalp.

"The police were summoned when Paul, with a dozen cuts, staggered into a drug store.

"Reserves found hundreds of white men in the streets hurling stones and firing pistols at negroes swarming on roofs, who were returning the fire.

"From a stone fight between white and negro boys the battle had grown until nearly every man in the neighborhood was a participant.

"Captain O'Neill's men quickly ended the fight."

Incidents of this kind referred to in the news article from the New York paper, had they occurred in the South, would have been heralded far and wide as a "race war" and editorially commented upon for weeks by a section of the Northern press that apparently knows no better. In the crowded metropolitan districts such incidents pass in the day's news and are forgotten.

After all, some day the negro will begin to realize that the best friends he has are the Southern people with whom he has grown up and by whom he is understood.

DIRECT TRADE WITH CHINA

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce listened on Wednesday night to two splendid addresses setting forth the feasibility of direct trade between China and the port of Wilmington, as well as other South Atlantic and Gulf ports. One of the speakers was Dr. Clarence J. Owens, managing director of the Southern Commercial Congress and president of the Chinese-American Products Exchange Company, and when he concluded an intensely illuminating and impressive address he was followed by the Hon. David S. Rose, of Milwaukee, general counsel of the Chinese-American company. Dr. Owens emphasized the reasons why the South should take itself seriously and look forward to the day when she could use her ports for direct trade with all the world.

Mr. Rose, formerly mayor of Milwaukee, and a man of great breadth of thought, took up the cue and pointed out a great opportunity in China for the development of direct trade. He has been there and has prospected the field, and he finds in that immense country a multitude of resources that have hardly had a scratch. He was favorably impressed with the Chinese people and related first hand his observations of the great opportunities there for American capital, American commerce and all branches of American trade. It is the purpose of his company to establish a steamship line to engage in direct trade between Southern ports and China, and he was here to interest Wilmington in the plans that are contemplated for that enterprise. He pointed Wilmington to the great opportunity in it and left it to our business men to see to it that this port should have the navigable water, harbor terminals and ocean trade that would enable this to be made a port of call.

The company already has been chartered, but no stock is for sale. Many able and wealthy Chinese business men are interested in the company and the Chinese republic has fostered it to the extent that it has guaranteed $3,000,000 of bonds to promote the enterprise.

There is no doubt that the South can maintain direct trade with China, and now the opportunity is up to her to co-operate in the movement to promote the Chinese-American company.

Mr. Rose and his associates certainly have "started something" and it is for the business men of our ports to get next to it and bring the proposition into definite and practical shape. No doubt that can be done and the earnestness with which this matter is being pressed indicates that its promoters mean business.

TARGET OF THE SYNDICATED LIAR

At Edgewood recently Evangelist J. W. Ham defended Secretary Daniels during one of his revival services. He told the people that the Secretary of the Navy is "the target of the syndicated liar." When the people understand that the liars are "syndicated" it will make friends for the North Carolint member of President Wilson's cabinet. The Secretary is a victim of the most vicious ridicule and coarse abuse ever heaped upon a high government official. Secretary Daniels has given serious offense to certain powerful interests because he decided to manage the navy in the best interest of the country instead of for the benefit of certain cormorants who had used the navy for years for their gluttonous purposes.

When a bone is taken away from a dog, he will bite you, so the people will understand why certain newspapers and magazines are snapping at Daniels. They are doing the biting for those who pay well for it in either money or business. Many so-called "high-class publications" with low class ethics and methods have pounded Secretary Daniels unmercifully, and some of their brutal jibes are passed along as humor. It has its effect on people who do not know the source and inspiration of it, but people ought to know that no reputable publication would prostitute its columns or pages to the regular campaign of slush that is carried by some of them in every issue.

Much of it is revolting to fair-minded men and it is a deplorable commentary upon the liberty of the press, misused as a license for villification and destruction of men in high places. Officials are subject to criticism, of course, when the ground for it is reasonable, but it amounts to blackmail when malice furnishes the motive for attacking men in office. Attacks upon public officials made upon facts are legitimate, but many of the attacks made upon Secretary Daniels have been based upon falsehood "out of the whole cloth."

"PROTECTION."

To the Editor of The Star:

Fire insurance gives you protection against loss of fire. Are you protecting yourself against loss on account of decline in value? What is the difference in losing one hundred dollars by fire, and losing one hundred dollars by decline in values. You pay for fire insurance every year, and overlook the fact that you may lose on that vacant lot, or the house and lot that has no tenant.

Buy a few shares of "Packing House Stock." And protect your property against loss by decline in values. The "Packing House" will increase the value of your property, and put tenants in your houses, increase the population of your town, put the credit business out of existence, and help every industry in your section.

Have you subscribed for any stock? Take a few shares and help bring these conditions to pass. Orangeburg and Greenville, S. C., Statesboro, Waycross, Moultrie and Valdosta, Georgia, are building, or have built, plants. If it is good for their city and section, why should it not be good for yours? Let us get together and build the "Packing House" here. It will be easy if we all pull together, and take from one to five shares each.

Yours truly,
W. W. LOVE.

AN APPEAL TO TRUE DEMOCRACY.

To the Editor of The Star:

In the 1912 presidential campaign New Hanover did the handsome thing by contributing $10,000. You helped.

Wilson was then an unknown quantity (so far as presidential timber was concerned). He was called the Professor, the Academic School Master, the Theorist. He was an experiment. Today he is a reality, still the Professor, still the Academic School Master, still the Theorist—and more, Scholar, Statesman, Chirstian Gentleman, Humanitarian and America's greatest President—no longer an experiment, but will go down in history as the genius of constructive legislation for the people.

True Democracy pleads with you to be loyal to your party. The destiny of our Nation hangs in the balance.

Wilson means peace, plenty and prosperity. He has kept peace with honor; he has proven the pen mightier than the sword. Let's keep him in the White House, because he has kept us out of the trenches.

Subscribe to the Wilson Club fund, and do it today. Send it to The Star office and tell them to credit it to the team of your choice. If you haven't any particular favorite, give it to me.

S. A. MATTHEWS, Chairman.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The cost of living is higher in Europe than in the United States. Under Republican control it was higher here than anywhere else on earth.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The Wilmington Star remarks that if we can't win with Wilson's record, that records do not count. That's entirely right and proper and we assure The Star that we will be far ahead when the votes are counted on that momentous November night.—New Bern Sun-Journal.

Wonder if the mortal Teddy has forgotten that nearly every department of his administration was reeking with fraud and corruption? And that a large bunch of his crowd were on the criminal side of the docket? Some one might whisper to him that nothing of the kind has happened under the Wilson administration.—Cape Fear News.

Taft is now engaged in cussing out the railroad brotherhoods and declaring that the passage of the eight-hour day law was merely to gain political advantage. The seventy Republicans in the House who voted for the measure and all the Republican members of the Senate who declined to oppose the bill is sufficient answer to the "political advantage" twaddle of Mr. Taft.—Raleigh News and Observer.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE NOTES

Orchestra and Glee Club Planning Trips—Student Statistics.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Davidson, N. C., Oct. 13.—The Davidson College orchestra and Glee Club have begun to make plans for their trips this year. Their plans now are to go to Winston-Salem on or about the 21st of this month. After this trip their plans call for a longer trip, which will probably be made in November, including Greensboro, Raleigh, Wilmington, and Red Springs. As it is early in the season the men who will make these trips are not definitely known but the prospects are very bright for some excellent talent.

On account of mistakes made in the first printing of the 1916 volume of the Davidson Annual, "Quips and Cranks," it was necessary for the printers to remake the book. Because of this the volume has just arrived. It is an excellent book and does the editors of it great credit. The volume is dedicated to "The man, Woodrow Wilson, who, as President of our country, is every day justifying our faith in him and our loyalty to him by his indefatigable labors and Christian statesmanship. * * * We honor him as the champion of the right; we follow him as a leader chosen of God; we love him as our brother."

A recent summary of the students attending this year reveals a few very interesting facts. The registration by states shows: North Carolina, 214; South Carolina, 65; Georgia, 34; Tennessee, 15; Mississippi, 12; Virginia, 10; Florida, 9; Arkansas, 6; Texas, 4; Alabama, 3; Kentucky, 2; Missouri, Wisconsin and Nebraska, 1 each. By foreign countries: China, 8; Brazil, Persia, Cuba, Germany, 1 each. By classes there are 51 seniors, 71 juniors, 114 sophomores, 146 freshmen, and 6 M. A. students. This is a total of 388 men.

Raleigh, N. Both will be here for a day or two yet and Chairman Lamb will have to be here occasionally from now until election day to look after various phases of the duties of the State board under the new election law.

NEARING FOUR THOUSAND FOR WILSON CAMPAIGN

One Generous Contribution Yesterday Swells Fund

Local Committees Will Go After More Support Today in Earnest—Several Voluntary Amounts Yesterday. Executive Committee Meeting.

Through the generosity of the members of one large Wilmington business firm yesterday, the local committees in charge of the campaign for the Woodrow Wilson fund were encouraged yesterday evening that the fund from this city and section was comfortably near the $4,000 mark and with renewed effort today on the part of all the team captains, it is hoped that the showing on Sunday morning will be even more favorable.

The contribution of $500 by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son was through the sub-committee of which Mr. B. A. Merritt is chairman and it infused new encouragement into the veins of the red-blooded Americans who are now engaged in the Wilmington effort to "Help Woodrow Win!"

There were several voluntary contributions yesterday, one of these being from Maj. Wm. H. Bernard, long a member of the State Executive Committee, who gave the accompanying forecast that "we will have four more years of Woodrow."

The committees engaged in the canvass rather relaxed yesterday for a final effort on the week-end and every team captain is urged to do his very best today and to make a report tonight at 6 o'clock at the office of Chairman W. A. McGirt, Masonic Temple, where the executive committee will be in session for a short while. Those who are expecting to make a contribution to this fund and have not yet done so are asked to mail their checks today in time to be included in the report which will be made tomorrow. There are many good Democrats who perhaps do not appreciate the importance of helping with this work NOW. The time is short and it will be impossible for the committees to see everyone. So, if you are not "approached" by a gentleman with a smile and a Wilson button on the lapel of his coat, kindly retire to the innermost recesses of your office, write a check and get it in the morning mail today. These voluntary contributions are appreciated all the more because they are voluntary.

The following is a list of the amounts reported by committees up to last night:

LOCAL WILSON CLUB STARTS BIG PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

Hundreds of Circulars Mailed to Voters Setting Forth President's Record.

That great pains are being taken by the officers of the Woodrow Wilson Club, of Wilmington, of which Mr. W. A. McGirt is president, to acquaint the voters of New Hanover county with the general prosperity and high prices for farm products which has prevailed during the present Democratic administration, is shown by the fact that hundreds of circular letters are being mailed out setting forth these and other reasons why they should turn out in large numbers on November 7th and cast a vote for President Wilson. The letter sent out yesterday morning reads as follows:

"We are at peace.

"The country is prosperous along all lines.

"No other administration has been charged with such responsibilities and fulfilled the obligations so satisfactorily.

"To whom is the credit due?

"Have you stopped to think that our boys might have been in trenches and on the battle line, surrounded by danger, destruction and death?

"President Wilson is the one man who has stood like a "Stonewall," combatting the influences that were seeking the country's undoing. Wilson won.

"Be thankful and help the Wilson club in their efforts to return him to office.

"Will you assist by getting at least one subscription each day? Work now and save the day.

"The WILSON CLUB."

REVIVAL SERVICES

Religious Meetings Will Begin at Dock Street Church Sunday.

Revival services, the first of which will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, will be held during the coming week at the Dock Street Christian church. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. E. Reynolds, the pastor.

Some of the subjects of the sermons which have been announced include, "The Unpardonable Sin," "The Devil's Bath Shop," "Noah's Ark," and others on interesting topics.

The congregation extends a cordial invitation to ministers of other churches in the city to attend the revival services. All members of the church are urged to bring their friends who have not professed religion to the services. The song services will be held at night promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

COLONEL TAYLOR TO SPEAK

Will Make Principal Address at Brunswick Fair—Meeting of Executive Committee Next Week.

Col. Walker Taylor has accepted an invitation to make the principal address at the opening of the first Brunswick fair which will be held on November 3rd and 4th at Bolivia. Colonel Taylor is an able speaker and the executive committee is fortunate in securing him for this occasion.

A meeting of the executive commttee will be held at Bolivia on next Wednesday to make final arrangements for the fair. As this will be the last meeting of the committee prior to the fair, it is imperative that all members be prompt in attending. Much business of importance will be transacted, and the success of the fair depends as much upon the interest manifested as upon the arrangements of the details.

This is the maiden fair for the Brunswick people and they are to be commended for their efforts to make known the possibilities and resources of one of the finest of North Carolina counties.

The eight townships in the county are to make separate displays of their agricultural products and they are to vie with each other for a valuable loving cup, presented for the competition through the generosity of Mr. George Honnet, of Wilmington. The best township exhibit will secure the traphy.

MANY INTERESTING FEATURES

Buffalo Bill and Preparedness Pageant Two Important Attractions.

The Buffalo Bill-101 Ranch show, which Wilmington is to see Monday, October 16, appears to have several distinctive features this season to attract attention and win public patronage. Perhaps the most interesting feature is the combination of Col. Wm. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and his interests with Miller Bros. & Arlington's 101 Ranch Wild West show, which was for a number of years the only real competitor of the Buffalo Bill show in the Wild West field. Col. Cody also, it is announced, has returned to first principles, and no longer makes his entrance into the arena in a trap, but is again in the saddle and riding, it is announced, with all his old-time grace and dexterity.

Another feature of the show that gives it distinction this season is the military "Preparedness" pageant, and the value of this is accentuated by the fact that the soldiers who participate are actually regular army troopers, assigned for the purpose by the U. S. War Department. The co-operation of the government with the management of an amusement enterprise is in itself interesting and unusual, but it can readily be seen that the value of such a display is the "preparedness" pageant in arousing interest and facilitating enlistments fully justifies the action of the War Department. That the War Department is keenly alive to the importance of the show in the present crisis is further indicated by the fact that there is now with the exhibition a recruiting officer whose tent is erected on the show grounds every day, and enlistments for service in the regular army are being received in constantly increasing numbers. In this way the management of the show, while undoubtedly profiting by the present keen interest in everything appertaining to the military, is also aiding the government to get together an army that will not only be effective in Mexico, if called upon, but which will also be in a state of preparedness for possibilities at the close of the European war.

Another feature is the unusually large congress of Western people, including nearly a hundred Indians, led by noted chiefs, and scores of cowboys, cowgirls, old scouts, ranchmen and other strenuous people. In the foreign contingent there are Siberian Cossacks, Soudanese Arabs, and Japanese, and the present complications along the southern border give especial interest to a large company Mexicans from Vala's former Torreon army. Cavalry and artillery maneuvers, roughriding by the world's most daring horsemen, skilled roping, broncho busting and a reproduction of Villa's attack upon Columbus, N. M., are among the offerings that are expected to create a full measure of thrills.

There will be a picturesque military and wild west parade at 10:30.

RECORD OF DEMOCRATS IS DEFENDED BY BAILEY

Raleigh Man Makes Masterly Address in County Court House

Mention of Wilson's Name Brings Prolonged Applause From Audience. Speaker is Introduced by Dr. W. C. Galloway.

While Hon. Josiah William Bailey, of Raleigh, collector of internal revenue for the Fourth district, has spoken to larger audiences during his tour of the Eastern part of the State in the interest of Democracy than the one that gathered in the court house last night to hear his masterly address in which he with such stirring eloquence defended the record of the Democratic party, he certainly has not had the opportunity to speak to a more attentive or enthusiastic one.

From the very beginning of the address by the Raleigh man the audience of several hundred men listened with the closest attention and each time mention was made of Woodrow Wilson and the matchless record he has made as President, the speaker was greeted with prolonged applause.

Beginning with a discussion of State issues, pointing out that there is no foundation in fact for the charge made by the Republicans of extravagance, and then launching into a discussion of the record of the Democrats in National affairs, the speaker reached the climax of his eloquent and powerful speech with the question, "Shall the sceptre Woodrow Wilson took from the privileged class and wielded in the interests of the people continue in his hands?" It is that question, declared the speaker, that must be answered in November.

"Though my candidate was defeated, there is nothing rankling here," declared Dr. W. C. Galloway, in introducing Mr. Bailey, as he placed his hand upon his heart. The audience, remembering what a splendid fight the doctor had made as manager in New Hanover for Daughtridge during the recent primary with the result that the Rocky Mount man carried the county by a large majority, knew that the speaker meant what he said and they applauded as only men do when they mean it.

"If you go at it in the spirit that dominated the Fifth ward in the long ago, you will get that flag, which has been offered to the county securing the largest majority over the vote polled in 1912," the doctor declared and then he eulogized the splendid man that the Democrats have nominated for the gubernatorial office. Dr. Galloway declared that he was indeed glad to have the privilege of introducing a man with such a splendid record as Mr. Bailey.

Chairman Thos. E. Cooper, of the Democratic county executive committee, presided at the meeting and made a short address in which he again emphasized the importance of New Hanover polling that three thousand votes for the Democratic party, in order that she may have her rightful place in the State convention. He introduced Secretary C. C. Cashwell, of the executive committee, who made a stirring address, in which he called on those present to get busy today and help to win that flag, offered by the State chairman to the county polling the largest majority of votes over that cast in 1912. "Let us be known as the banner county in the State," he urged.

Mr. Bailey spoke of his pleasure in being in Wilmington and declared that he had rather thought that by coming to this city and mingling with fellow Democrats he might gather inspiration for his tour of the Western part of the State, which begins next week.

A high tribute was paid to the splendid work which he said the local papers are doing for the cause of Democracy and, while he did not wish to speak disparingly of any others in the State, he did not know of any that are doing quite so much to stir up enthusiasm for the party and its principles, he said. "I would like to pay tribute to all the papers in North Carolina," he declared, "who are doing so much to promote the cause of Democracy."

He did not deem it necessary to make any extended discussion of State issues, for if the Republicans have been unable to produce a single objection that is worthy of serious consideration. "They say the Republicans have a ticket, but who knows who their candidates are?" he continued. "The trouble about the Republicans who are very well known is that they are too well known."

The speaker explained the importance of the Democrats keeping awake lest the Republicans regain control as they did in 1896 with such disastrous results to the State. One of the very important reasons mentioned is that there are 50,000 negroes in the State, who would be qualified to vote, if the Republicans could name the registrars. "This is a white man's government," he declared, "and the only way we can keep it so is by retaining the Democrats in power."

The Republicans have been busy charging extravagance, pointing out that the annual expenses of the State amount to five million dollars. While in the aggregate these figures seem to be quite large, the main question is not how much but for what and how well has it been spent. It should be borne in mind that three million of it is spent for public schools. As a result of the constructive policy of the Democrats, teachers are now receiving on an average twice as much as they did 16 years ago when the Republicans were in power, the children are enabled to go to school twice as long as long during each year and as a matter of record there are just twice as many children while a splendid system of rural high schools has been established to prepare boys and girls for college. "I tell you that this is the greatest record that any State has made in a similar length of time," declared the speaker. "It has not been extravagance for the money has been returned to the people."

The speaker after showing that $600,000 is spent annually for the insane and $240,000 annually for agricultural purposes, in eloquent and stirring words pictured the wonderful agricultural progress that has been made. During the past seven years North Carolina has passed seven States in this respect

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH

The Story of the Cat That Brought Bad Luck to Jim Hawkins.

He was a cat.

Just a plain ordinary black cat of the masculine gender, with beaming fangs, glaring green eyes, and a tail capable of being expanded and contracted at pleasure, and with a coat as black as Charon's oars at midnight.

Yesterday afternoon this particular specimen of the genus felis lay dozing in the doorway of a cottage near Red Cross and Wood streets. His emerald optics, half open, inspected each passerby with a kind of devil-may-care look, half of contempt and half of mild curiosity.

He paid no particular attention to any special pedestrian until Jim Hawkins, a colored resident of the community, happened to pass along. Then Mr. Cat became a regular galvanic battery. His back arched up like a rainbow and his eyes flashed every color of this phenomenon and at least ten others of such various shades that it would be impossible to enumerate them. Then his caudal appendage was elevated until it formed a direct perpedicular at the southern extremity of his spinal column in just about the position that soldiers call "rigid attention."

Next he opened his mouth and emitted a blood curdling shriek that would have made the statue of Napoleon's favorite war horse tremble with fear. One, two, three times the howl was repeated, and then it continued until for the 13th time it floated weirdly over the still air of the afternoon. And all the time the huge brushy tail was moving up and down, keeping time with the vocal accompaniment, with all the regularity of the city clock.

On the 13th stroke and shriek Tommy lowered his war flag, ceased his musical efforts and quietly, even contemptuously, walked down the steps, and sauntered leisurely across the street.

And what of Jim all this time. At the first intonation from the cat he stopped short. Then as it continued he gazed with dilated eyes, while his mouth opened, first in astonishment, and then in horror.

"Lawd i'se ruint," he yelled. "Dis am Friday the 13th, an' heah dis black cat has done hollered 13 times with his tail meanderin' up and down like a pokeberry bush when a hawg rubs hisself agin it. I shoty knows sumpin' turribul is gwine ter happen."

With his head shaking dolefully, Jim entered his cabin, only to emerge exactly 30 seconds later with his face the picture of perfect despair. "Gawd," he groaned, "dey's triplets."

As a matter of fact the people of North Carolina should not consider the 13th as an unlucky day for the number 13 plays an important part in the history of the state. The words North Carolina contain 13 letters, it was one of the 13 original colonies, 13 holidays are observed within its boundaries each year, and Raleigh fell into the hands of the Northern army on the 13th day of the month.

The only reason that it becomes a bad omen for Friday and the 13th to arrive together is undoubtedly because some public nuisance, probably a book agent, was hanged on Friday after worrying the life out of good housewives of the state for a period of 13 years.

OFFICER KERMON RETURNS FROM UNSUCCESSFUL CHASE

Alleged Negro Cotton Thief Escapes Dogs and Posse by Taking to Swamps.

Officer W. H. Kermon, in charge of the city's bloodhounds, has returned from Watha, to which place he was given permission to go by the local authorities to assist a posse of deputies led by Sheriff T. M. Murry, who were endeavoring to run down Remeo Carroll, colored, who is alleged to have stolen a quantity of cotton in that section. The hunt for the negro even with the aid of the bloodhound proved unsuccessful as the negro made his escape by taking to the swamps.

According to Officer Kermon, the posse at one time had the negro surrounded in a house, but the latter made his escape amid a fusilade of bullets from the weapons of the officers. While trying to trail the negro through the swamp, Officer Kermon sustained a wrenched ankle from his foot sinking into a hole.

PLUMMER-MILNER WEDDING WAS CELEBRATED WEDNESDAY

Of much interest to a wide circle of friends in Wilmington, where the groom formerly resided, being the manager of the Orton hotel for several years, will be the following from yesterday's Greensboro News:

"Miss Mary Milner, of Reidsville, and Wm. H. Plummer, of Burlington, were united in marriage Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock in a simple, yet beautiful ceremony. The wedding occurred in the home of the bride's mother at Reidsville, and was attended by a number of neighbors and close friends and a few invited guests from Greensboro and other places. The Milner residence was artistically decorated for the occasion. There were two beautifully rendered vocal solos before the ceremony, Mrs. Wallace Milner singing 'At Dawning.' The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. I. Craig, D. D., of Reidsville, and it was followed by a sumptuous wedding luncheon. Miss Annie Milner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Plummer was attended by J. R. Clements, of Raleigh, as best man.

"After the luncheon the bride and bridegroom drove to the station and boarded northbound train No. 36 for a honeymoon trip to northern cities, after which they will be at home at Burlington.

"The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of blue broadcloth and furs and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a handsome gown of brown and white and carried pink Killarney roses.

"The bride has a wide acquaintance and a large circle of friends in Greensboro, where she she spent a great deal of time in the last few years in the capacity of registered nurse. The bridegroom is also well and favorably known here, where for a long time he was in the hotel business, being one of the lessees of the McAdoo when it burned last May. He is now lessee of the Piedmont hotel at Burlington.

"Those attending the wedding from Greensboro were Misses Lillian Petty, Flora Matthews and Elizabeth Tate, Mrs. J. L. Stehle, W. E. Phipps, W. S. Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. John N. Wilson."

MISS GEORGIA DIXON BRIDE OF MR. JAS. CRAWFORD COOPER

Fayetteville, N. C., Oct. 13.—Miss Georgia Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dixon, of this city, and James Crawford Cooper were married in the Hay Street Methodist church Wednesday night, the pastor, Rev. W. R. Royall, being the officiating minister. The ceremony was witnessed by a large assemblage of friends and relatives of the two young people. The chancel was banked with palms and ferns, with which smilax and white flowers were effectively combined.

Miss Mary Helen Sheetz was the organist and before the entrance of the bridal party rendered "A Springtime Sketch." Lohengrin's and Mendelssohn's wedding marches were used. Two vocal solos, "All For You" and "Because," were rendered by Miss Margaret Cotton, preceding the coming of the bridal party.

The ushers, who entered first, were Frederick Dixon, the bride's brother, A. B. McMillan, B. R. Huske, Jr., and Dr. N. B. Cannady, the last named of Laurinburg. The bridesmaids were Miss Alline Cooper, the bridegroom's sister; Miss Margaret McMillan, Miss Ruth Sedberry, and Miss Sadie Williams, of Augusta, Ga. Misses Cooper and McMillan were gowned in white tulle over silver cloth. They wore silver slippers and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums, which were tied with tulle over cloth of golds, and gold slippers. They, also, carried yellow chrysanthemums. Eugene Crews, of Tarboro; P. W. Haigh, A. H. A. Williams, of Oxford, and R. S. McNeill were the groomsmen. The maid of honor was Miss Annie Williams of this city, who followed the bridesmaids and groomsmen, wearing a gown of white tulle and gold lace and carrying an arm bouquet of sunset roses.

The bride was preceded by two little flower girls—Misses Elizabeth Dixon, the bride's small sister, and Mary McBuie. Each carried a basket of yellow dahlias and daisies, and was daintily clad in white tulle with yellow sashes. Yellow bows of tulle ornamented the basket which they carried. The bride, who entered with her father, wore a shimmering creation of white tulle and silk lace over duchess satin, with a court train, the lace bedice being embroidered in pearls. A wreath of orange blossoms was worn with a coronet veil, and she wore a pearl necklace which was the gift of the groom.

Cotton Mounts to 16.75.

Cotton on the Wilmington market yesterday went into a new high level with the spot quotation at 16.75. This is the best price offered here this season, and, of course, for many years past. Receipts yesterday were only moderate, the total being 970 bales, according to accounts of the Chamber of Commerce. This makes a total for the season of 42,732 bales, as compared to 62,571 bales to the same date last year. The quotation last year was 11.75.

MANDAMUS PROCEEDING DECISION IS RESERVED

Brunswick School Tax Matter is Aired in Court

Judge Connor, at Southport, Hears Counsel and Witnesses—Wide Interest on Account of Politics of Parties to Action.

Upon the completion of the trial of criminal cases in the Superior court, at Southport this week, Judge G. W. Connor took up the hearing of the mandamus proceedings brought by the Board of Education of Brunswick county against the Board of County Commissioners to show cause why they should not levy an additional special tax for maintenance of the public schools of the county, and, after hearing argument of counsel representing both sides and a number of witnesses yesterday, reserved his decision in the matter.

These proceedings were brought for the purpose of determining why the county commissioners did not levy a tax of 15 cents on the taxable polls of the county when they placed a tax of five cents on the $100 valuation of taxable property for school purposes; and also for the purpose of determining whether, as a matter of fact, the taxes as levied b ythe commissioners are sufficient to carry on the work of the public schools in Brunswick county for four months in each school district, as is made mandatory in the State constitution.

In view of the fact that the Brunswick Board of County Commissioners is made up of Republicans, while the majority of the Board of Education is composed of Democrats, the case has aroused more than usual interest both in Brunswick and New Hanover counties. The Democrats are claiming that the commissioners by keeping down the tax rate are sacrificing the best interests of the public schools for the purpose of being able to say to the voters of the county that its affairs have been administered economically. The Republicans, on the other hand, claim that the taxes levied are sufficient to carry on the work of the schools in the county in an adequate fashion, and are just what the Education Board asked to be levied with the exception of a levy of 15 cents on the polls, which they allege would raise the tax on polls over $2 on the head and thus be in a larger sum than is permitted by the State constitution.

The Board of Education was represented by Robert Ruark, Esq., of Wilmington, and J. W. Ruark, Esq., of Southport, while the Board of County Commissioners was represented by C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of Southport.

The county superintendent and the chairman of the Board of Education of Brunswick county both testified that, in their opinion, as the sheriff's settlement made after the June meeting of the commissioners had caused their receipts for school purposes to fall short by $2,000 of what they expected to receive ,the five-cent property levy would not only not be sufficient to carry on the work of the schools, but that they would have to ask for a levy of 10 cents on the $100 valuation of property and 30 cents on the taxable polls in the county.

Counsel for the Board of Education contended that, although one article of the State constitution does prescribe that the poll tax for the maintenance of public schools shall not be in excess of $2 on the poll, there is another provision which prescribes that when a tax is levied in this State the authorities must levy three times as much on the polls as on $100 property valuation, and that the Supreme Court has held in Kitchin vs. Wood, 154 N. C., 565, that when the former is fixed the latter becomes automatic, and the Legislature has no power to add or subtract therefrom.

Reverting to the argument that a tax in excess of $2 on the polls was unconstitutional, counsel for the Board of Education further argued that the Supreme Court has held in the case of Collie vs. the Commissioners, 145 N. C., 170, that the constitution must be construed as a whole to give effect to each part and not to prevent one article from giving effect to another thereof, equally peremptory and important.

Counsel for the Board of Education further declared that in the above cited case the Supreme Court had held that while article V of the constitution is a limitation on the taxing power of the General Assembly, article I thereof commands that one or more public schools be maintained at least four months in every school year in each school district in each county of the State and should be enforced. Hence, Revisal, section 4,112, providing that if the tax levied by the State for the support of public schools is insufficient to enable the commissioners of each county to comply with that section, requiring four months school, they shall levy annually a special tax to supply the deficiency, is constitutional and valid, though exceeding the limitation of article V. The foregoing case, counsel added, overruled two previous decisions made by the Supreme Court, and was now the law. Counsel for the Board of County Commissioners, however, declared that it was not the law and cited several cases at length which he contended held to the contrary.

It was admitted by counsel for the commissioners that on July 24 the chairman of the Board of County Commissioners received a letter from the Board of Education, advising that the special tax levy that they had asked for was not sufficient in view of the fact that the commissioners had failed to levy the fifteen-cent poll tax and also by reason of the fact that upon the sheriff's settlement made after the June meeting, the Board of Education had received $2,000 less than they expected to receive.

Owing to the fact that the levy had been made according to the figures submitted at the proper time, counsel for the commissioners alleged, no special meeting was called, nor was any action taken by the commissioners at their next meeting on August 20, when the Board of Education requested the additional levy on the polls, for the reason that they presented no figures to show that the former statement of what tax was needed for school purposes was in error.

Counsel for the commissioners also contended that no levy could be made except at the June meeting, but Judge Connor stated that in the court's opinion this contention would not be in accordance with the law in the matter provided that the levy made in the first instance was not sufficient to carry on the work of the schools in the various districts of the county as prescribed in the constitution.

Counsel for the commissioners further contended that while the Board of Education did on the first Monday in June, at the time of making the levy under the statute as required by law, submit a prepared statement showing that they estimated that a five-cent property tax and a fifteen-cent poll tax was necessary and sufficient to maintain one or more public schools four months annually in each school district of Brunswick county, the special school tax of 15 cents on the poll was not levied, because the revenue from the capitation tax would have been very small, netting the county probably not more than $250, and secondly, because th eState constitution prohibits the levying of a poll tax in excess of $2.

These proceedings are brought, according to contentions made by counsel for the Board of County Commissioners, to test the question whether the commissioners have the right to levy a special school tax of five cents on the $100 valuation of taxable property without at the same time levying a tax of three times that figure, or 15 cents, on the taxable polls in the county; and also whether as a matter of fact the special tax of five cents on property was sufficient to carry on the work of the schools for the period prescribed by law in the various districts of the county.

Counsel for the commissioners also argued that the question presented was largely one involving a construction of the provisions of the State constitution relative to the limitations placed on the levying of a tax in excess of $2 on the taxable polls. He argued that the limitation did apply, as the constitution did prohibit the levy of a tax on polls in excess of $2 on the poll.

Burgaw, N. C., Oct. 13.—The county candidates of the Republican party are making a canvass of the county the first time in over 20 years. In the election of 1912 there were five precincts or townships in Pender county in which there was not one Republican vote cast, and the outlook is not any more favorable for them this year.

COTTON GOES TO NEW LEVELS

New High Records Made by All Deliveries, the General List Showing a Net Gain of 15 to 22 Points.

New York, Oct. 13.—There was a renewal of the bull movement in the cotton market here today and all deliveries made new high records for the season, January sold up to 17.64, or 91 points above the low level of last Monday, and closed at 17.50 with the general list closing steady at an advance of 15 to 22 points, as compared with the final figures of Wednesday.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 17 points, and the first rush of buying orders carried the market about 19 to 22 points above Wednesday's finals. Reports that numerous vessels had cleared from this side over the holiday encouraged buying as did the strength of Liverpool. Realizing around 17.50 for January caused light reacations but the market soon firmed up again.

Another wave of realising was encountered around 17.60 for January at midday but setbacks of 5 to 10 points were again followed by renewed strength and for a time the buying was active and excited, with December selling up to 17.76, March to 17.70 and May to 17.81 during the early afternoon when the general list showed net gains of from 29 to 35 points.

This meant an advance of fully $4 50 per bale from the low level reached on the first submarine scare at the beginning of the week and closing prices were some 10 to 14 points from the best under profittaking. Weather advices indicated favorable conditions in the South for picking and ginning.

WEEK'S REVIEW OF COTTON

Apprehensions Over Submarine Warfare Cause Great Nervousness. Prices, However, Go Up.

New York, Octfi 13.—Apprehensions that the extension of submarine warfare to this side of the Atlantic, as indicated by the development of last Sunday, caused great nervousness in the cotton market at the beginning of the week. The fear was that German submarines off the American coast would tie up export clearances and lead to a burdensome accumulation of supplies in the domestic markets. Reports of a very sharp advance in war risks and that some of the British steamship lines were holding their vessels in port ,naturally added to such apprehensions, and for a time on Monday the market was very weak and unsettled. January, which had sold at 17.24 on Saturday, broke to 16.73 and practically all the active months showed losses of nearly half a cent from recent high records. Offerings were very well absorbed at the decline, however, with the bulk of the demand coming from spot houses, and the market soon steadied on a more optimistic view of shipping conditions. After making new high ground on the rally, sentiment became very nervous again late on Wednesday, owing to reports that the British Admiralty had taken over control of all allied sailings from this side and there was another sharp break of some 20 to 27 points in prices. The market today, however, showed renewed strength owing to reports of numerous sailings ovre Thursday's holiday and prices reached the highest point of the week and season, with January selling up to 17.63, or approximately $4.50 per bale above the low point of Monday and practically forty points above the highest price reached on the advance of the previous week. Crop and weather advices have indicated very favorable conditions for picking and ginning, but little prospect is reported for any top crop outside of Oklahoma.

SALES IN STOCKS DECLINE

For the First Time in More Than a Month Dealings Fall Below the Million Mark.

New York, Oct. 13.—Many observers attached more significance to the diminishing dealings today's stock market than to the course of prices. For the first full session since September 5, transactions failed to record a total of 1,000,000 shares although approaching that figure.

Almost one-third of the aggregate transactions oirurred in the selling movement of the last hour, the general list, and war issues in partihular declining somewhat abruptly on rumors suglesting danger of a recurrence of submarine warfare in nearby waters.

During the forenoon and in the intermediate period, munitions, equipments and shipping shares were decidedly stronger, gains extending from 2 to almost 5 points. These advances were fortified by some striking gains among rails, including Norfolk and Western, which ascended to the new record of 146 3-4 with 1 to 3 point advances in leading coalers, Union Pacific, New York Central, Western Maryland preferred, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grande preferred, and Southern Railway preferred.

There were early gains in the utilities, notably Ohio Gas, Columbia Gas and Consolidated aGs, while Petroleum, National Biscuit and some of the meters and leather issues scored irregular advances, most of which were dissipated at the close. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,-725,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

DUN'S BUSINESS REVIEW

New York, Oct. 13.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"All speculative markets experienced reaction this week and legitimate business has temporarily moved under reduced momentus, owing to the holiday interruption and a certain hesitancy due to international developments. Current transactions, however, continue unprecedented for the period and with the strength of fundamental factors undiminished, the general tendency in trade and industry is still toward further expansion.

"The rise in prices continues and of the 331 wholesale quotations regularly compiled by Dun's Review, sixty six showed advances this week and 26 declines. The extreme costs naturally induce more or less conservatism and deter some from buying but in many instances the prospect of further advances is an incentive to larger purchasing and consumption generally is maintained in extraordinary volume. This is evidenced by the recordbreaking bank clearings, which this week are 22.3 per cent in excess of last year's at leading centers outside of New York. Part of the gain, of course, is due to the high prices, yet these remarkable totals would not be possible were it not for the noteworthy and widespread activity in general business. In many cases, however, a full measure of progress is not possible, because producing and transporting facilities, though increased and extended to the limit, remain inadequate to meet the growing requirements.

"Weekly bank clearings $4,453,623,-277."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Prices Make New High Ground as Result of Buying Movement.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—Cotton touched ne whigh ground on this market today as the result of a general buying movement, standing at the highest at a gain of 28 to 32 points over Wednesday's close. All months went to the highest levels in many years. Late in the session, disappointment was manifested over the failure to advance local spot quotations and prices fell off closing at a net gain for the day of 18 to 19 points.

The chief stimulating influences were the continued reports of a huge business in drygoods and the claim that Southern mills were buying supplies in this market and in Texas. Points in Alabam wired that cotton had brought as high as 17.40 cents a pound, basis middling, on the street.

On the opening, the market lost three points on December, the only month to show a net decline during the day. Much of the early demand appeared to be due to accummulated buying orders over the holiday and to expectations of a bullish report on American consumption tomorrow from the Census Bureau. Closing bid:

Spot cotton firm and unchanged. Sales on the spot 840 bales; to arrive 300; middling 16.50.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

which the speaker though in the classic language of the West is going some.

The State has progressed in other ways, too, for while at the beginning of Russell's administration there were only $14,000,000 in the banks there are now $107,000,000 and at that time there were only enough cotton mills to manufacture one-fourth of the cotton grown in this State and there are now a sufficient number to consume every bale of the 750,000 grown annually without our borders.

One of the stock claims made by the Republicans when they were in power, the speaker pointed out, was that the Democrats could not supply the leadership necessary to run the affairs of this National government. Their attitude, said he, was that "we are the sweet selected few, let all the rest be d—mned, there is room enough in h—l for you, and we do not want heaven crammed."

He described Woodrow Wilson amidst the turmoil that has been without and the vexation that has been within during the past two years as a man with the poise of Washington, the courage of Jackson and the wisdom of Jefferson and it is he to whom that we owe the peace that hovers over our land. He it is who has kept the rudder true.

He spoke of the great wave of prosperity that has swept over the land to which the Republicans raise the objection that it is caused by the European war. Such an argument, the speaker thought, is absurd. While it is true that money has been made out of munitions of war yet it is also true that during the past year they have constituted but five per cent of our total exports.

Time would not suffice for him to discuss the Federal Reserve act, the cotton futures bill, the Rural Credits law, the shipping act and the other acts that have characterized the programme of the Democrats, the greatest of any part for a similar length of time, said the speaker, but it may all be summed up with the one idea that the government has been put back into the hands of the people, where it belongs.

The Republicans are not complaining so much that the Democrats are not running the government right as they are that it is not being run in the interest of the privileged class.

When Taft was in Greensboro a few years ago, said the speaker, he invited the people of this State to join the Republican party and get back into the Union but they did not follow his advice as they preferred to come in at the front door rather than the back one. He paid his respects to Judge Hughes, pointing out that his campaign has been one of evasion and that he has been unable to find a single issue upon which to conduct a campaign.

In conclusion the speaker paid an eloquent tribute to Woodrow Wilson, the man who regarded his election not as victory of party but as victory of humanity. He was given an ovation after he had finished and a large number came forward to congratulate him and to renew acquaintances of former years.

Mr. Bailey, who with Mrs. Bailey, is touring the Eastern part of the State in his automobile, will speak at Rose Hill this morning at 11 o'clock and tonight he will be at Dunn. This will conclude his speaking engagements in Eastern North Carolina and next week he will go to the West, beginning his campaign at Asheville.

PORTRAIT OF DR. GEORGE W. LONG PRESENTED TO STATE.

Interesting Addresses Made by Judge Clark and Dr. Picot.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—A splendid life size oil painting of Dr. George W. Long, of Graham, N. C., was presented to the Hall of History today by members of the Long family, the ceremony having been in the administration building at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Dr. L. J. Picot, of Littleton, who was a close friend of Dr. Long during his most useful and distinguished life, delivered the address in presentation of the portrait to the State and the address accepting it was by Chief Justice Walter Clark, in the absence of Col. J. Bryan Grimes, who is chairman of the State Historical Commission.

Dr. Picot gave a fine address in which he portrayed the career and personality of Dr. Long most pleasantly and forcefully, Dr. Long having been one of the most distinguished members of his profession in his day, the office of president of the State Medical Society having been filled by him with marked ability. Of the brothers of Dr. Long, now most useful citizens, the Chief Justice said that Judge B. F. Long and Jacob A. Long stand in the forefront of the legal profession; Rev. D. A. Long, D. D., having achieved eminence as a leading divine. The address of the Chief Justice was devoted principally to a splendid tribute to the medical profession, which he declared to be by far the most progressive of all callings.

COL. ARENDELL CRITICALLY ILL

Grave Fears Felt Lest Raleigh Man May Not Survive.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—Col. F. B. Arendell continues in very critical condition at Rex Hospital and his friends are extremely anxious about him. A stroke of paralysis has left him in much worse condition than was at first thought. He has been in very feeble health for a long while and there are the gravest fears that he may not rally from the attack.
